Born and raised in Omaha, Jack's connections, experiences and knowledge of the city allow him to deliver exceptional insight to his clients. Jack studied finance and accounting while attending the University of Nebraska – Lincoln, giving him an advantage when it comes to financial aspects of the commercial real estate business. His drive and work ethic are valuable attributes that make him a desired real estate broker with which to work.

Jack specializes in the leasing and sales of office buildings as a member of the Investors Realty Office Team. Jack also spearheads the Office Team's primary research effort by constantly studying the market and completing monthly, quarterly and annual reports/research projects.
